

“Forgiveness does not change the past, but it does enlarge the future.

- Paul Boose

HAPPY “FORGIVENESS DAY” FROM THE LEWIS CENTER FOR EDUCATIONAL RESEARCH!

Today we celebrate Forgiveness Day, which recognizes the process which Indira Gandhi, former Prime Minister of India, called “a virtue of the brave.” Forgiveness is a central tenant of our Judeo-Christian heritage that helps create harmony and hope for the days ahead. “Without forgiveness, there is no future,” said South African leader Archbishop Desmond Tutu. Philosopher and psychiatrist Thomas S. Szasz reminded us that “The stupid neither forgive nor forget; the naive forgive and forget; the wise forgive but do not forget.” At the Lewis Center in Apple Valley, CA, we hope you find a place in your heart to forgive those who have trespassed against you. As you bring the power of Forgiveness Day to bear, you will not only cleanse your heart, you will also help improve the quality of your life and the lives you touch today, tomorrow and forever.