

A THOUGHT ABOUT THE OLYMPICS FROM THE LEWIS CENTER FOR EDUCATIONAL RESEARCH!

As we prepare to celebrate the Opening Ceremonies of the 2012 Olympic Games, at the Lewis Center for Educational Research in Apple Valley, California we find ourselves thinking about the Games in the context of the children we serve. We believe it's time to challenge our kids to strive to be their best through focused hard work, discipline, tenacity, fair play, teamwork, great coaching and going the extra mile. These are not only the keys to Olympic glory, they are also critical success factors for a great education that will propel the children of the USA back to the Gold Medal of academic achievement. Go Team USA!
