

AAE students bring home trophy

By CHERYL THOMPSON Special to the Daily Press

August 7, 2007

Several middle and high school students in the Associated Student Body at the Academy for Academic Excellence in Apple Valley have participated for the past four years in the American Cancer Society's Relay for Life.

The participation and enthusiasm of the students involved in the 24-hour walk for cancer enabled them to receive a trophy for the largest fundraising youth team. The students received recognition as the No. 1 Youth Top Team and another one for the No. 1 Top Team. Teacher sponsor Mrs. Scantlin said the students were excited to receive the trophy and to be part of a bigger effort in finding the cure for cancer.

Submitted photo

The Academy of Academic Excellence's ASB was recognized by the American Cancer Society for being the largest fundraising youth team. The team has participated in the Relay for Life for four years.

Used with permission by Freedom Communications, 2007