

HIGH DESERT

B Friday, May 31, 2013 • Victor Valley & The High Desert

VVDAILYPRESS.COM

INSIDE
Are cover songs a homage or irksome marketing ploy?
Page B3

vvdailypressnews

@vvdailypress

AVFPD donates grills to Lewis Center

APPLE VALLEY •

Members of the Apple Valley Fire Protection District Employees Association donated two new barbecue grills to the Lewis Center for Educational Research Tuesday, according to Jason Nailon, deputy fire marshal and employee association president.

Grills were provided to both the Thunderbird and the Corwin campuses.

“We are involved and committed to our Apple Valley schools throughout the school year in various education and readiness programs for grades K to 4,” Nailon said. “These donations will serve students and staff for years to come.”

The Lewis Center opened in 1990 and has hosted more than 110,000 students, teachers and parents participating in outreach programs, clubs and educational activities. The center focuses on engaging children in science and math through hands-on experience.

— Compiled by Shane Newell and Rebecca Howes for the Daily Press

PHOTO BY CHERYL THOMPSON, Lewis Center – Jason Nailon and Robert Simpson, with AAE students, deliver BBQ grill to the Thunderbird Campus.

Used with permission by Freedom Communications, 2013